USA Girl Scouts Overseas

Planning Next Year's Troop Membership

A Worksheet for	Girl Scout Troop #
	GIRLS
How many girls are returning to same t	roop?*
How many girls are coming into the tro- (those bridging-in and new recruits)	op? +
How many girls are leaving the troop? (those bridging-out or moving away)	-
This is your estimated number of girls to next year's troop. See page 44 of Sa to find recommended troop sizes.
Is your troop getting too small? She troops to provide for both large gro Discuss it with your lone troop con	ould you consider merging two oup and small group activities? nmittee member or troop organizer.
Is your troop getting too large? Sho smaller troops rather than one larg lone troop committee member or to	ge one? Discuss it with your

*This model assumes the troop stays at the same age level and girls progress to another troop. In some areas, entire troops progress to another age level, with a new troop formed at the younger age level. Either method is acceptable; however, it is the lone troop committee's responsibility to clearly show the results of troop organizing on membership registrations for the next year.

ADULTS
How many leaders are staying with this troop?
Add leaders coming from another troop. (Perhaps a previously uninvolved parent of a bridging girl?)	+
This is the number of leaders for next year's troop. next year's troop. See page 39 in Safety Wise to find the suggested number of adults for your troop size.	=
Do more adults need to be recruited? (You are allowed to have extra leaders!) How many more leaders do you need?

Lone Troop Committee should retain this worksheet to plan for troop organization.

DUPLICATE THIS SHEET AS NEEDED

USAGSO Form #115 Rev. 2/96